INTRODUCTION

I am an enthusiastic, creative visual collaborator with extensive experience in video production & photography. While I have over 20 years experience in advertising and public relations imaging of Culture and Tourism in corporate environments, my video production experience started in 2006.

In 2014 my video expertise culminated in being awarded a contract to create a video about the new White House Visitor Center in Washington DC. Producing, directing, shooting and editing creative content for a wide variety of clients in both the private and public sectors is my main strength as creative video manager. In 2017 the focus of my work has evolved into 360 VR video production. In 2019 my VR work has advanced into AR game design.
