Training

The Arizona Film Office put together a week of training to certify and train me as a Production Assistant. Learned from people currently working in the industry about set etiquette and the basics of film/commercial work and have been learning through the Northern Arizona University film program.

Four semesters in UTV Studios, three of which were as a manager. UTV Studios is the film production studio/club at NAU where three to four student films are produced each semester.

Awards

Arizona Film Office certified Production Assistant
Banjamin-Gilman International Scholarship
