

ISAAC HAMMON

Production Assistant

PROFILE

I'm from a small town in Utah. I moved to Arizona in 2022 to pursue a BFA in Film Production at ASU. The most valuable resource I've discovered, both in film and in life, is people. The connections I've made in classes and on sets have been the most rewarding and instructional of my life.

I came to filmmaking as a writer. I adapted my love of stories to this fascinating and collaborative medium. I direct, act, and produce, and love to be a part of any project where my talents are useful.
