

Jennifer O'Bannon has over 25 years experience as a Fashion Stylist and Costume Designer in New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Los Angeles and Phoenix. Her expertise in fashion and costume design can be found on the runways, international magazines, commercial campaigns, music videos, television and film. Well studied with a degree in the history of fashion and costuming, Jennifer is known for her classic approach to fashion combining with a contemporary edge. She has a personal fashion consulting business as well, dressing both men and women professionals and celebrities. Jennifer has vast media experience and exposure national as well as internationally.