Biography

I am a full-time animation Director and a claymation fiend living in Phoenix, Az with my beautiful Wife and Daughters. I graduated from the traditional animation program at San Francisco State University in 2005, and worked on various series, and commercials as both a freelancer and full-time staff member at various studios while living in CA several years ago.

I am very passionate about what I do, and work tirelessly to better myself as an animator and film maker, and strive to make sure that shows through in my work.

Shokunin, which means an artisan or craftsman who is a master of something and is more concerned with perfection of his or her craft than with money!
